

Axe Throwing

Hit the bullseye of teamwork in an axe-citing adventure.

Axe throwing is a unique and thrilling team building activity that requires precision, concentration, and teamwork. In this safe and controlled environment, participants will have the opportunity to learn and practice the art of axe throwing, while also engaging in a fun and exciting team competition.

How it Works:

Teams will be divided into smaller groups and assigned to throwing lanes where they will receive instruction and guidance from experienced coaches. They will then have the chance to practice their throwing techniques before the competition begins. Each team member will take turns throwing axes at targets and will earn points based on their accuracy.

To add an extra level of excitement and teamwork, teams can participate in team challenges, such as hitting specific targets or achieving a certain number of points. This promotes collaboration and communication, as team members strategize and support each other to achieve their goals.

Safety is always a top priority, and participants will be required to wear protective gear and follow strict safety protocols. The axes used are specially designed for throwing and are regularly inspected and maintained to ensure their safety.
