

Corporate Feud

Engage in friendly rivalry, conquer challenges, and claim the corporate crown!

Our best Corporate Feud activity has a real game show atmosphere – with an answer board beamed up via projection – and sound effects for the lockout, correct, and wrong answers. The game is typically played in rounds, with each round consisting of a category and a survey question related to that category. Corporate Feud can be customized to fit different group sizes and can be tailored to specific themes or topics to make it more relevant and engaging for the participants.

How it Works:

In this activity, the show begins at the face-off podium, participants are divided into two or more teams who compete against each other by trying to guess the most popular answers to survey questions. The team captains and their team have to guess the most popular answers to the survey question. With fast-paced rounds of survey questions and a bracket scoring system, winning teams move forward from the initial rounds of play to the Finale. The team with the most points at the end of the game wins.

Our unique design keeps everyone involved throughout the show. For larger groups, an audience response polling system is used to allow each team to answer multiple-choice trivia questions. This determines the order in which the teams are invited to compete on the main stage.
